Central EALTS Administration maintains central management and control of the EALTS but the local administration of the test is organised through local test centres.

Local test centres conduct EALTS testing sessions on behalf of organisations, training institutions or licensing authorities subject to local requirements. Special test sessions can be arranged for individuals wishing to sit the test. Interested parties should contact their local test centre in the first instance.

The following steps outline the application and administration procedure for the EALT.

Applicants complete the application form and send it or take it in person to the test centre with the test fee and appropriate additional documentation. Those taking the completed form in person to the test centre will have a digital photograph taken to prevent the possibility of identity fraud. Those sending the completed form should include two recent identical passport-sized photographs (not more than six months old). Further evidence of identity including such details as a unique identifying number, photograph, date of
